If space is available, priority will then be given to persons with other mobility impairments, including temporary disabilities. Subsequently, access to the AVP may be granted to persons with certified disabilities affecting cognitive, communicative, or social functioning, including individuals on the autism spectrum, as well as to pregnant women, who may use the AVP independently and only when places are available.

39. To obtain access to the AVP, Participants must report to the Accessibility Desk (hereinafter referred to as the "AD"), where, upon presenting a valid disability certificate or medical statement, Promoter will verify eligibility and issue a wristband authorizing access to the AVP. Persons with disabilities must hold a valid Ticket.
40. Support Assistants are also entitled to access the AVP if their assistance is essential for the person with a disability and confirmed by an appropriate medical document. Verification of eligibility for Support Assistants takes place at the Accessibility Desk. A Support Assistant must hold a valid Ticket and may remain on the AVP only as an accompanying person providing assistance to the individual with a disability.

V. RIGHTS AND DUTIES OF EVENT PARTICIPANTS:

41. Promoter reports that due to a considerable number of Participants, the necessity to exchange Tickets for IDs and the necessary control and safety means used at the entrance to the Event, Participants are obliged to arrive in the Festival Area in an appropriate, no less than 2-hour advance.
42. Promoter reports that Event Participant as well as any other persons staying in the Festival Area or in the rest of Promoter Area, will be continuously exposed to loud sound, which may cause hearing damage. It is recommended to use hearing protection, especially for children. Strobe lights and pyrotechnics effects may be used during the Event.
43. The Promoter also records the proceedings of Event for documentation purposes as well as promotion and advertising of Event and events in the following years, the Promoter and sponsors.
44. The Participant of the Event acknowledges that participation in the Event may be associated with the risk of infection with the SARS-CoV-2 virus, in particular in the event of failure to comply with the rules of conduct established by the Promoter, applicable regulations, guidelines or recommendations of relevant government administration bodies, and exempts the Promoter from any liability in this respect.

VI. CANCELLATION, CHANGE OF DATE AND/OR LOCATION OF THE EVENT:

45. Decisions on canceling an Event, changing the date and/or location of the Event or refunding the amounts paid by Event Participants in connection with the purchase of Tickets, i.e. the price and service fee (hereinafter collectively the "Amount due"), are made by the Promoter, on the terms set out in these Terms and Conditions and based on current law.
46. If the Event is canceled, date and/or location is changed, the Promoter will inform the Event Participants who have purchased Tickets for the Event of this fact by e-mail sent to the addresses provided in connection with the purchase of Tickets, on the Promoter's website and on social media.
47. If the cancellation of the Event is directly related to the negative effects of COVID-19, the due date for the refund of the Amount is 180 days. The refund will be made using the payment method used by the Participant when purchasing the Ticket.
48. If the date and/or location of the Event is changed, the Event Participant may choose whether to keep the purchased Ticket and take part in the Event on the new date and/or location, or to cancel the Ticket and receive a refund of the amount paid. The Promoter will inform the Event Participant about the method of choosing one of the described options in an e-mail sent to the address provided in connection with the purchase of the Ticket, on the Promoter's website and in social media. If the Event Participant chooses to resign from the Ticket and return the amount paid, the refund period runs from the date the Event Participant submits the declaration of resignation from the Ticket. Tickets purchased at stationary points of sale remain valid, without the need to contact the point of purchase of the Ticket.

49. If, due to the change of the date and/or location of the Event, the Event Participant decides to keep the purchased Ticket and take part in the Event on the new date and/or location, the Ticket remains valid, regardless of possible changes in the prices of Tickets for the Event on the new date and/or location.
50. If, in connection with the change of the date and/or location of the Event, the Event Participant decides to resign from the purchased Ticket, the amount paid by him will be refunded on the same terms as in the event of canceling the Event, with the proviso that in such a case the dates of return run from the date of submission by the Event Participant of the declaration on resignation from the Ticket.
51. If, in the event of changing the date and/or location of the Event, the Event Participant does not choose any of the options provided for in the previous points within the period specified by the Promoter, it is assumed that the Participant has decided to keep the purchased Ticket and participate in the Event on the new date and/or location. This means that after the expiry of the period indicated in the previous sentence, the Event Participant may no longer resign from the purchased Ticket and receive a refund of the amount paid. This solution is dictated by organizational considerations related to the organization of Ticket distribution, including the limited number of Tickets available for the Event. Information about the date for making a decision will be provided to the Event Participant together with information about the change of the date and/or location of the Event, in the manner specified in the points above.
